

KIRTI BETAI'S RESEARCH

Pyramid Healing ENERGY Re-search

Mr. Kirti Betai – Agra – India

The Source of Inspiration

- 1. The Giza Pyramid Complex has been the focus of attention of the mankind for centuries.
- 2. It has taken more time, attention, and efforts, of the contemporary scientific community, in trying to understand what was accomplished by the Egyptians, or whoever built the Giza Pyramid Complex, than it took the ancient engineering genius in materializing the Giza Pyramid Complex in-to reality.
- 3. Hundreds of scientists have invested their in-valuable time, attention, and energy, to De-Code the secret of the Pyramids. Equal number of scientists have invested their time, attention, and energy, to find flaws in their discoveries.
- 4. Those who want to find flaws are bound to succeed, as knowledge of man is imperfect. When knowledge becomes perfect the knower is no longer a man – he becomes God Personified in man. He does not find it necessary to collect evidence to satisfy others about the truth of what he has known. If the others choose to ignore or reject his discovery, he is unconcerned. The Earth was round even before Galileo discovered that it was so.
- 5. On a chance reading of an article about the experiments of Dr. Bovis (France) relating to the Energy Force Field of Pyramids, Kirti Betai whose liver and kidney failure due to adverse drug reaction had seen him go through a near death experience in 1984 (hepatic coma), started his Research in Pyramid Energy Systems for Healing his own health condition.
- 6. In two years 10,000 Pyramids were built by Kirti Betai, of different sizes, shapes, colors, and materials, as indicated by his Pendulum Dowsing to heal his liver, kidney, pancreas, heart, and spine.
- 7. Within two years Kirti Betai began to work 15 hours a day without

- any perception of fatigue, or pain, and without any drugs. Earlier he could not even sit for more than 30 minutes at a time.
8. Simultaneously Ms. Bhagbhari Betai – Kirti Betai's wife – got complete relief in her chronic Asthma, Colitis, and Depression.
 9. In the ten years thereafter over 30,000 patients of every conceivable diseases, dis-orders, and ailments have been cured with total relief in symptoms and confirmation of internal change through medical investigative tests e.g. choked arteries (Angiographies), Muscular Dystrophy and Diabetes (Blood Test), Gall Stone Removal (Ultrasound).
 10. Disease, dis-order, and ailment treated successfully so far include Aids, Allergies, Arthritis, Asthma, Attention Deficiency, Choked Arteries, Burns, Chronic Fatigue, Cancer, Depression, De-Addiction, Diabetes, Epilepsy, Fibromyalgia, Gout, Hyper / Hypo Tension, Insomnia, Migraine, Muscular Dystrophy, Polio, Paralysis, Rheumatism, Schizophrenia, etc.
 11. The Mother Energy Field of 10,000 Pyramids was fortified by additional 26,000 Pyramids over the next ten years - totaling up to 36,000 Pyramids – their Energy Force Field being unified and integrated in-to one Energy Wave Form.

The Pyramid Energy System

12. We live in an Energy Universe. All animate and inanimate Energy Forms are life-forms - having an energy nucleus within the core of every atom that constitutes the form.
13. Inanimate Energy Forms are visibly inert. Animate Energy Forms appear to act and inter-act with its environment, and they appear to survive on a continuous in-put of Energy from its environment and they produce waste. Inanimate Life-Form does the same but its activity is feeble and hidden from our sensory system.
14. All energy systems inter-act with each other continuously and spontaneously. Distance is no barrier. Every energy system polarizes to become kinetic. Polarizing involves concentration of energy particles at one place (positive pole) and corresponding depletion of energy particles at another (negative pole).
15. There cannot be any activity unless the energy system becomes bi-polar. Before the beginning of time and the Creation, there were two energy systems – one was conscious and kinetic (positive pole) – the other being depleted and dormant (negative pole) – its activity being too feeble to be called conscious – surviving on continuous input of Energy from the positive pole – not capable of individual action.

- 16. So in the beginning, there was one kinetic energy system, and the other dormant or unconscious or potential energy system.
- 17. By continuous and prolonged interactions between these two Systems the process of the Creation ensued. The very first interaction, that made the first dormant energy particle active and kinetic marks the beginning of time and the Creation.
- 18. Now there were two active energy systems, and their interactions continued to bring about more energy particles in-to conscious and active state. So one became two – and two became three – and so on – until all energy particles that could be energized and made active by Energy interactions were brought to life.
- 19. The same is the process of every life-form in this and every other Solar System – in the mother's womb two of the parents body cells inter-act to bring about one active cell of the new human body – this new cell divides in-to two – the two divide in-to four – and so on – every process of evolution creates a Pyramid Pattern.
- 20. Without Pyramid Pattern there can be no activity or organization or life. Every organization must function in Pyramid Pattern for its survival. So a country has one head of state (by whatever name) and each company has one CEO and every home (the smallest organizational unit of society) has to have one head of the family.
- 21. Pyramid Pattern therefore represents the process of evolution – of consciousness – of life.
- 22. Every energy system has a unique frequency, size, shape, color, and sound. If two energy systems are absolutely identical in all respects, they cannot remain as two - they will spontaneously merge in-to, one unified energy-wave-form.
- 23. For activity and interaction there must be in existence at least two energy systems, one Energy that will act upon another Energy, through the medium of Energy Waves. Through these interactions both will undergo some change. The change will be in one or more or all of the frequency, size, shape, color, and sound, the five manifestations of Energy.
- 24. In this process of evolution, the energy nucleus does not undergo change – the prime energy nucleus, which began the whole process of ever changing universe remains un-changed. We often refer to this energy nucleus as God.
- 25. At all levels of the Creation the energy nucleus does not undergo any change – only its form changes. e.g. water evaporates to turn in-to vapor (gaseous state) – vapor turns in-to water (fluid state) – water falling in polar regions turn in-to ice (solid state) – ice turns in-to water – through-out the process the nucleus remains un- changed.

26. The energy nucleus is in Pyramid Pattern – its action is also in Pyramid Pattern – e.g. a wave of light grows in Pyramid Pattern as it travels away from its Energy Center – same with magnetic energy wave – and the same with sound Energy Waves.
27. So the Pyramid or the energy nucleus remains un-changed in the interaction between the two or more energy systems and what remains un-changed is really the Pyramid.
28. The word 'Pyramid' in Greek is made up of two words – Pyr = Fire or Heat or Energy – and Amid = middle or center or nucleus. Energy Nucleus or Energy Center is therefore the true meaning of Pyramid. Pyramid, is that part of a life-form, which does not undergo change, but it brings about change in others in its environment, due to interactions.
29. In every Energy interaction the form of both interacting energy systems change. In interactions with a Pyramid even the energy nucleus of the other energy system changes. That is the key difference between energy nucleus of any energy system and the Pyramid Energy System.
30. That is why a dead body cell can remain un-changed (free from decay) when placed within Pyramid Energy Force Field.
31. This is possible only when an energy system has been accelerated (condensed) to a speed of perpetual motion. Perpetual motion means there is no change due to interactions – which can happen only when there is no motion – i.e. the speed of the sub-atomic particles whirling around the energy nucleus is so high that they are present at every place in every dimension i.e. at all levels simultaneously – when this happens, the energy particles are no longer in motion – because they are already present everywhere - so they do not undergo change – this is the state of Perpetual Motion.
32. In the state of Perpetual Motion the energy particles are in continuous interaction with all other energy systems at all levels of the Creation – but they do not change as a result of the interaction. This is the state of Pyramid Energy System.
33. This is also the state of the Prime Nucleus – The God – who is known to be omnipresent and omni-potent. Pyramid Energy System represents and reflects the God and His Creation.
34. Certain facts of life cannot be proved or explained merely in words – they have to be experienced. One can at best explain how drinking water quenches thirst (if water is drunk) but one cannot experience nor understand what it means unless he drinks the water when he is thirsty. The mankind does not understand the phenomena of sleep or how magnetism works – and yet every one sleeps and uses magnetism in daily life. Pyramid Power similarly will have to be experienced, to be understood.

The Creation of Pyramid Energy Force Field

35. Thousands around the world have and are continuing to experiment with Pyramid Power. Most have replicated the Golden Section of the Giza Pyramid, and many have tried different sizes, shapes, colors, and sounds to maximize the Pyramid Power – and most have experienced that Pyramids do not seem to behave consistently from time to time or person to person or place to place. This is seen as one of the mysterious aspects of the Pyramid Power.
36. The other mysteries that surround the Giza Pyramid Complex are 1) How was it built? 2) Who built it? 3) Why was it built?
37. Psycho-Kinesis is the only method for transporting heavy objects from one place to another that was practiced not only in the ancient Egypt but, in many parts of the world. Evidence of this is available in the ancient Egyptian, Chinese, and Indian literature.
38. There is enough evidence to suggest that the efforts, technique and technology, that was used in creation of the Egyptian Pyramids including the Giza Pyramid Complex was of the Egyptians and none other.
39. The result of every activity depends upon its purpose. The purpose of making Pyramids for Mr. Kirti Betai was to heal his physical body. So the Mother Energy Field of the 36,000 Pyramids created at Agra India are pre-dominantly configured for Healing.
40. The purpose for which the Giza Pyramid Complex was created is different and so its energy configuration is also different. The frequency, size, shape, color, and sound of any energy system will reflect the purpose for which the energy system was brought in-to action – provided the efforts were successful.
41. So this information is en-coded (so to say) within the Giza Pyramid. There are conflicting or contrary views regarding the purpose for which the Giza Pyramid Complex was built. This is not surprising as each researcher has a different perspective and what he sees or experiences will be limited by his perspective. The Giza Pyramid Complex was built for almost each and every purpose, which is - being attributed. It is a multi purpose energy system.

42. The Pyramids at Agra were built with a single purpose in mind. However over the period the Energy Force Field has matured in-to a multi purpose energy system. Pyramid Energy Force Field grows with efflux of time. It's a living System.
43. Pyramid Shape functions like a giant reflector or antenna, and a powerful Energy Generator, simultaneously and spontaneously. The function of a particular energy-wave-form will be according to its design and construction. So the function of an energy system is according to its frequency, size, shape, color, and sound, which includes, the material of construction, and its location, orientation, and alignment, to its environment.
44. The moment a Pyramid Shape is created, it begins to inter-act with its environment and generates an energy-wave-form within. So the energy-wave-form (frequency, size, shape, color, and sound) generated by a particular Pyramid will be according to its material, shape, size, color, location, orientation, and alignment.
45. Amongst the seven factors (material, shape, size, color, location, orientation, and alignment) location is the most important factor. This is equally true for any other venture. One well-known management expert has enumerated the three most important factors affecting the success of any business as:- location, location, and location.
46. For Pyramid Power as well, its location is the first most important factor due to the fact that the Pyramid will generate its Power from out of the energy particles available in its environment. The location will determine the end result i.e. frequency, size, shape, color, and sound of the energy-wave-form of the Pyramid Energy System.
47. The next most important factor for the end result is the material. The material used will determine the energy configuration i.e. from the available energy particles (location), how much of which of the energy particles will be absorbed by the Pyramid Energy System.
48. The next important factors are the color, size and shape of the Pyramid. These will together determine the color, size and shape of the energy-wave-form of the Pyramid Energy System.
49. Ultimately the energy-wave-form of the Pyramid Energy System must conform to the purpose for which it was designed. So the material, shape, size, color, location, orientation, and alignment of the Pyramid must be selected according to the purpose for which the Pyramid Energy System is to be built.
50. This is the main reason why most researchers found the behaviour of Pyramids built by them to be inconsistent from person to person and place to place and time to time, as they had replicated the shape of the Giza Pyramid but all other factors were different and in any event they were perhaps not in conformity with the purpose for which the Pyramid was designed, and most of all they were built and used at different locations during the incubation period (so to say) of the Pyramid Energy System, i.e. the energy-wave-form of the Pyramid had not stabilized or was still in its growth phase.

51. To overcome some of these difficulties, the Pyramid Mother Energy Field at Agra India was created by using a large number of small Pyramids made from every conceivable material including gold, mercury, silver, copper, brass, steel, aluminum, fiber, plastic, cardboard, paper, canvas, fiberglass, wood, etc.

52. We used as many as 37 out of the 84 elements (in pre-determined proportions) found in this Solar System in the construction of these 36,000 Pyramids.

53. The fact is – if one was to build an exact replica of the Giza Pyramid at any other place, it may not have the same energy-wave-form. There are only three locations upon this Earth, where the Giza Pyramid can produce an identical energy-wave-form. — ?

54. There are at least six more locations upon this Earth where Pyramid Energy System can be built for the benefit of the mankind. ?

55. These locations are not static. They keep changing with the efflux of time. ?

56. There is only one place upon this Earth where the energy-wave-form produced by the 36,000 Pyramids at Agra India can produce the same energy-wave-form – and that is exactly the place where these 36,000 Pyramids have been located. ?

57. The Pyramid Power, i.e. the number of Energy Waves within each energy band-width - will be according to the size of the energy band width, and the size of the energy band width will be according to the size and shape and number of Pyramids constituting the Pyramid Energy Force Field.

58. If and only if the Pyramid Power is adequate for transforming the Target Energy System back to its original state, then alone the Pyramid will be able to bring about permanent change in the target energy system.

59. The research work done so far by the eminent scientists of our time is remarkable. Special reference must be made of the work done on Pyramid Energy System by Dr. Bovis (France), Dr. Lui Alvarez (USA), and Dr. Baxter (USA). Although the work of Dr. Baxter was mainly related to interactions of energy-wave-forms of plants, animals, and humans, his work definitely provided valuable input to Mr. Kirti Betail.

60. Mr. Kirti Betail expresses his deepest gratitude and conveys his highest regards to all the innumerable researchers who have contributed to his research on Pyramid Energy Healing Systems as the source of all Knowledge and all Energy is one - and whoever has invested his time, attention, energy, and other resources on discovery of any information has certainly paved the way for others to tread that path a little more comfortably.
61. Mr. Kirti Betail is happy to invite every seeker of truth to Agra India to experience the Power of the 36,000 strong Pyramid Energy System in creation of which they all have contributed in some way just as each of the 30,000 patients have contributed – without them the Pyramid Energy System would not have been created.
62. Mr. Kirti Betail is conscious of the fact that the Pyramid Power at Agra India is not the result of his effort or intellect but it is the Gift of God through thousands of His beloved children, and the same along-with all information pertaining there-to is open and available to all the seekers of the Truth.
63. Pyramid Energy Treatment (unlimited) is made available without any charge to one and all without any reservation at the Daya Dhaar Self Care Center (Not-For-Profit Organization) SW 33 Soami Bagh Agra 282 005 India. Email info@harmony000.org the future to people who come from as far as Melbourne and Adelaide to see her.

In another part of the pyramid Carl Lehmann treats his patients with hydrotherapy, naturopathic remedies, acupuncture (like acupuncture without the needles) and massage.

Lehmann says the pyramid itself contains supernatural powers of healing and preservation.

"Any food or vegetable matter left in a true pyramid will never go rotten," he adds. "It eventually becomes dehydrated, but there is no rotting process.

"I don't claim to understand this any more than anyone else. But even scientists don't deny the power of the pyramid."

Smaller pyramids, experimental models, dot the Lehmann property. Even the Lehmann chooks have one as their coop, and according to the faith healer they produce about 30 per cent more eggs than normal.

The main pyramid impressed a local building inspector as the strongest construction he'd ever seen.

Lehmann says its strength is mainly in the fact that nothing protrudes for cyclonic winds to get under and tear loose. Of course, say the Lehmanns, there's little point in surviving the cataclysm unless you know how to go on surviving in a world that had suddenly become a wilderness.

"We have our own water supply, our own generator, gardens for fresh vegetables and a few goats for milk," Lehmann has also planted 100 nut trees behind the house as a protein supply.

Sitting in his pyramid office he spoke in quiet, measured tones of how the global destruction would leave an aftermath of unholy panic and terror.

"There will be terrible looting, murder, rape — you name it. The mob will panic and any person in the way of the mob will not have a chance. Shirley and I will stay in the house where we have vast supplies of dehydrated food and fresh water."

An interesting part of Lehmann's theory (WE still use that word) is what he describes as the blind instinct of alternative lifestyles during recent years to flee the cities and learn natural survival in the bush.

"Ask most of these people why they head for the country and they can't really tell you," he says. "The fact is they KNOW something terrible is coming and their instincts are guiding them — just as animals sense danger when they can't see or smell it."

Pyramid Power

The enhanced energy field created by pyramids has become a popular field of study in recent decades. Dr. Patrick Flanagan, an electronics genius with hundreds of patented inventions, published a book on pyramid power in 1973. He believes the five angles of the pyramid project a beam of radiation towards the centre - the "fire in the middle." Flanagan calls this amplified life-giving force "biocosmic energy," though science has not yet understood the specifics of this energy. Karel Drbal, a Czechoslovakian engineer and pyramidologist, described the pyramid as "a kind of cosmic antenna, tuning into sources of energy of vaster intensity and then focusing it into its centre."

With Kirlian photography Patrick Flanagan demonstrated that while most of the positive energy is focused within and beneath the pyramid, some is also diffused from the five points. Many who have stood on top of the Great Pyramid have described sensing a high energy field or electrical charge.

Kirlian Photography

Since the 1970s engineer Joe Part, a member of the Great Pyramid of Giza Research Association, has written about theoretical "mass particles" that the pyramid shape attracts and traps. He states that these particles produce an orb-like energy field or "containment bubble" around any true pyramid, which shields out other energies. Using his gamma ray transducer he was able to study this energy field, which emanates from the one-third height level of the pyramid, the geometric centre (which he pinpoints as the Queen's Chamber in the Great Pyramid). He claims this centre holds three mass particles captive as long as there is space for ions to flow. He found that sun spot activity and the phases of the moon had an effect upon the intensity of a pyramid's energy field, and that at certain times of the year the field would block all electromagnetic radiation and even the force of gravity.

In 1968 Dr. Luis Alvarez, a Nobel prize winner in physics, tried to ascertain whether there might be secret chambers or passages in Khufu's pyramid (the middle pyramid on the Giza plateau, only slightly smaller than the Great Pyramid), by measuring how cosmic rays passed through it. Normally the recording device would show a drop in energy if cosmic rays were passing through an empty space rather than through stone. In this case the recording tapes, when analyzed by computers, showed that the cosmic particles could not be measured - every time the tapes were run, the patterns were different. The cosmic particles rearranged themselves and some of the data disappeared altogether. "This is scientifically impossible," said one of the scientists, Dr. Amr Goneid ... there is some force which defies the laws of science at work in the pyramid."

King's

Blunt Razor - sharpens your mind like the razor would save tons of steel razor blade rubbish.

Modern pyramidology had its beginnings in the 1920s when Antoine Bovis, a Frenchman visiting the Great Pyramid, noticed that the bodies of small animals - bats, mice and cats - which had died in the King's Chamber were completely preserved by dehydration. Back home in Nice he built a scale model of the Great Pyramid, placed a dead cat about one-third up, and found that the body indeed did not decay but mummified.

Sharpening
Razor

Dead cat

His model, on display with preserved animals in his store window, was seen by a young man, Hubert Larcher, who later conducted his own investigations into pyramid power. He wrote to Karel Drbal, telling him of Bovis's discoveries and writings. Drbal performed his own experiments and discovered that if a dull razor blade was left at the one-third level of a model pyramid, it would regain its sharpness within a week and would remain sharp if kept inside the pyramid (which, as for all experiments, must be facing magnetic north, with the edge of the blade facing north also). His Gillette Blue Blade which normally gave five shaves could now be used for fifty shaves or more. Drbal theorized that the energy waves in the pyramid caused the metal molecules to return to their original form. He went on to create and patent a Cheops Pyramid Razor Blade Sharpener.

Pyramid Razor blade Sharpener

The razor-sharpening effect brought pyramid power into the public eye. Anyone can duplicate the experiment, using a pyramid model in the proportions of the Great Pyramid. Regular double-edged blades can be used but single-edged blades without a stainless steel or platinum coating are better. Use a dull blade or dull it with a toothbrush, and leave it in the pyramid for a week. X

Sheila Ostrander and Lynn Schroeder's 1970 book Psychic Discoveries Behind the Iron Curtain verified the dehydration of organic matter and sharpening of blades by pyramid shapes. With the publication of Pat Flanagan's book and another by Max Toth and Greg Nielsen, "pyramid power" became popular and many people began their own experimentation.

Scientists and interested amateurs have performed experiments with plants, seeds, metals, food and liquids inside pyramids. Bill Schul and Ed Pettit placed identical containers of milk inside and outside a pyramid. Within a week the milk outside grew mould, whereas the milk inside the pyramid formed curds, and six weeks later turned into a smooth creamy yogurt. An experimenter named James Raymond Wolfe put a pint of water within a pyramid for a week and a control pint outside the pyramid. His assistant filled numbered vials with the resulting water and Wolfe watered groups of sunflower seeds, not knowing which water was which. In every case the seeds watered with the pyramid-charged water grew faster. Patrick Flanagan also verified that seeds germinated more easily and plant growth was accelerated by pyramid power. Seeds kept beneath a pyramid will produce a richer yield, and pulses sprouted with pyramid power are richer in vitamins, minerals and enzymes. Not only do plants grow faster beneath pyramids but they remain free of pests.

Plant Dance (behaviour) by cosmic orchestra

Bill Schul and Ed Pettit noted significant difference in the growth rate of plants beneath pyramids and wondered if they would be able to capture it with time-lapse photography. What their photography showed was "plants gyrating in a symphonic dance as though orchestrated by an unseen conductor." Their first film showed a six-inch-tall sunflower placed in a glass pyramid at the one-third height level. "The plant followed an east-west cyclic movement. It bowed to the east nearly touching the base, swept a semicircle to the south and back to the west and finally straightened to the vertical before starting the dance once more. The movement was repeated every two hours" The authors observed this east-west movement for two years, then abruptly the plants started to move instead in a north-south arc, presumably due to some change in the environment or atmosphere.

Aluminum

An aluminum screen placed to the west of the plants would stop the plants' gyrations, since aluminum blocks a pyramid's energy field. Similarly, seeds placed on aluminum foil in a pyramid will sprout slowly - but aluminum's blocking effect is overcome if the foil is left in a pyramid for two weeks or more. Amazingly, the foil then carries its own pyramid energy and it will enhance seed growth and cook food faster.

Jules Green of the Psychical Research Society experimented with flowers. Taking four roses, he placed two under pyramids, one under a cube, and one in the open air. He did the same with four tulips. After a week, the flowers exposed to the air had withered, while the others were still fresh. The roses and tulips in the pyramids, however, had actually grown.

Patrick Flanagan investigated pyramid effects on plants, water, animals and people. He was particularly enthusiastic about the pyramid's ability to preserve food - foods and beverages stay fresh longer and acquire enhanced flavour. Fruit is preserved indefinitely by dehydration.

The Great Pyramid Company explains how pyramids inhibit natural decay: "Pyramids don't kill bacteria. However the bacteria feed by absorbing nutrients as entropy breaks the tissues down. In a pyramid there is so little entropy that the bacteria barely survive and don't multiply prolifically. Food therefore stays fresher longer and has a chance to dehydrate before it goes bad."

Medicines stay fresh beneath a pyramid for the same reason: destructive energies are deflected and positive energy is enhanced. Pyramid-charged water is energizing and aids digestion; it also helps wounds and skin conditions to heal faster. A small pyramid placed over a wound will likewise speed healing. Polluted water can be in several days beneath a pyramid.

Since a pyramid holds positive energy and deflects negative wavelengths, it will cleanse and empower crystals, and brighten tarnished jewellery. Tarnish can be removed quickly from gold and silver by pyramid-treated water.

Many people report feeling revitalized, with sense-perceptions sharpened, after spending time within a pyramid. As well, some experience an internal tingling, and sometimes a "distant ringing" sound, as the pyramid shape focuses and resonates beneficial sound vibrations.

NY Book

In The Secret Power of Pyramids, Bill Schul and Ed Pettit report that people spending time sitting beneath pyramids have claimed relief from many ailments. In their chapter on "Healing Powers" they report that healing has occurred rapidly in cases of sprains, cuts, bruises, toothache, backache, strains, congestion, and infections. They mention that people sitting within pyramids sometimes report seeing a blue light, which research has shown to have cooling, healing properties. In Pyramid Power, Max Toth and Greg Nielsen state that people sitting or sleeping near even a model pyramid have reported the alleviation or disappearance of pain or symptoms of illness. Schul and Pettit postulate that the pyramid energy field tends to produce healthier functioning of cells, tissues, and organs. They point out that since the pyramid shape offers a heightened energy field, while a cube inhibits energy, it does not serve us to live in cube-shaped homes.

Not surprisingly, people experience enhanced effects when meditating beneath pyramids. Changes in the meditator's aura (electromagnetic field) have been noted with Kirlian photography - auras become brighter and larger. Meditators report deeper relaxation, an enhanced sense of well-being, and increased levels of awareness. The positive energy flow in the pyramid facilitates deeper focus.

Patrick Flanagan tested the brain waves of people as a pyramid was lowered over their heads. Their alpha waves became much stronger and meditation became deeper. As well, he found that he required less sleep and felt more rested when sleeping under a pyramid. The Great Pyramid Company, which sells pyramids for meditation and sleep, states that sleeping under, rather than inside, a pyramid is preferable, since "the energy is softer and quieter." Having a pyramid beneath one's bed can also have a calming effect.

under my bed
see photo

Distractions are unordered, disharmonic energy. [A] pyramid guards against external interference while helping you corral your own maverick thoughts. The pyramid focuses positive energy within you, which is precisely your goal. As you enter your reflective state the pyramid assists you at every step. Meditation is faster, deeper and more rewarding.

my Book

Bill Schul and Ed Pettit researched the effects of meditation inside a pyramid, by asking people to try it for the first time and describe their experiences. The common feelings were of calmness, peace, harmony and relaxation, as well as mild euphoria, feelings of being "charged" with renewed energy, and a sense of detachment from the physical world and everyday concerns. Some experimenters experienced a focus of energy on their heart. One reported: "The first impression was peaceful silence ... and I was very aware of my heart. There was a power of some kind going to the heart, or coming from the heart. The entire body seemed to take on a vibration - a tingle..."

People meditating in a pyramid regularly have received strong spiritual and psychic impressions, as well as enhanced dreams and visions, vivid visual imagery, and increased memory recall.

Some writers suggest placing wishes and prayers inside the pyramid to help focus one's energy on the issues, or facing in the four directions to enhance specific areas of life: For example, one can sit in the pyramid facing east to focus on love, harmony, and peace; west for health; north for material abundance, and south for protection and safety - the principle being that the pyramid energy will help to materialise these desires.

open Pyramid for meditation

Experiments have shown copper to be the best metal for an open-frame meditation pyramid, due to its natural electronic and bio-enhancing properties, but pyramid structures of cardboard, wood or bamboo are effective too, if built to the same proportional dimensions as the Great Pyramid.

The Great Pyramid enshrined and preserved timeless knowledge which is still challenging us to unlock its secrets today. As well, Edgar Cayce and others have claimed that a Hall of Records lies buried beneath the Great Sphinx, containing records and artefacts from Atlantis and even more ancient civilizations. Suffice to say that there are mysteries still to be revealed on the Giza Plateau. In The Secret Power of Pyramids, Bill Schul and Ed Pettit described the Great Pyramid as "an instrument for human growth." As we delve into its history and learn more about the ancient wisdom it embodies, we learn more about human capacity and evolution. We are only beginning to understand the vast antiquity of the human race and the advanced scientific and metaphysical knowledge which ancient civilizations possessed, and which the Great Pyramid conveys to us across millennia.

WHAT IS THE PURPOSE OF THE PYRAMIDS?

UTILITIES AND FUNCTIONS OF A PYRAMID

Sleeping or living inside a Perfect Pyramid produces:

- More vitality, by tensioactivation and molecular restructuring and accumulation of bio-energy (ORBs).
- Higher organic resistance, antirheumatic and antisclerotic effect due to molecular restructuring. For healthy or sick people of all ages.
- No harmful effects with our materials (Warranty)
- Cellular life prolongation (anti-ageing) due to its antioxidant effect without chemicals.
- Prevention and or cure of most human, animal and plant disease
- Invulnerability to infectious bacteria due to its bacteriostatic power
- Deep relaxation, and the correction of sleep disorders.

X It's a matter of awareness and priorities. We spend a third of our lives in bed.

The pyramids have many functions. Piramicasa makes them to live and or sleep in so you can achieve real, concrete and extraordinary results based on scientifically certified effects and without undesirable consequences. thanks to the material we use.

- ✕ 1. All ageing processes are slowed down, with no side effects. The anti-ageing effect occurs in all organs, every cell of the body. There are reports of menstrual period recovery in women with more than three years of menopause, after a few months of sleeping in a pyramid.
- ✕ 2. Nothing rots inside a pyramid; therefore, infectious bacteria can't thrive. One can stay safe from bacterial attacks that cause most of the known diseases. Therefore, in the face of a biological war, the risk would be minimized or nullified, since viruses also depend on the lysate of bacteria and putrefaction to reproduce. That's why those who sleep or live in properly constructed pyramids can't suffer from influenza or any of the diseases so common in the population.
- ✕ 3. The accumulation of organic energy (large amounts of neutrinos) produces quantum completeness in the atoms that make up our bodies. The organic effect manifests as greater vitality, less vulnerability to a broad spectrum of radiation, and natural correction of organic liquids and solids.
- ✕ 4. As a result of the above, the organic functionality of all living beings optimizes. It prevents molecular degeneration that produces the so-called "degenerative diseases," as well as rheumatic ones and in acute cases such as wounds or burns, cell recovery accelerates significantly, It prevents all kinds of infections, the crushed or broken bones repair quickly, which in most cases even prevents scars.
- ✕ 5. It inhibits infectious processes that cause acne, suppurative hidradenitis, hyperhidrosis, eczema of any biological etiology in their pathological form (impact is minimized and accelerates healing in eczema of chemical etiology.) Septicemia may never occur in users who live or sleeps in a pyramid. Still, people who don't have their body "pyramidalized" can successfully fight acute septicemia within a few days of therapy, using antipyramid.

- X 6. Due to the muscular and nervous toning resulting from all of the above, most sleep disorders disappear. The pyramid doesn't replace a massage, necessary in cases of contracture, but the result of a massage session will be several times more effective when the person sleeps in a pyramid or when previously treated with antipyramid. That is why many therapists also use them. Its effect is evident in ailments such as fibromyalgia, which disappears in weeks or months, or multiple sclerosis, which takes longer because generally fibromyalgia is only the prelude to sclerosis. We clarify that there are cases in which the pyramid has failed to stop the process of multiple sclerosis, which seems to have many possible etiologies. Some of them are not influenced by the pyramidal effect, mostly those of the psychosomatic type.

- X We must take the next factors into account, which makes the Pyramid Revolution in the world.
- a) It's not invasive and works thanks to the Earth's magnetic field.
 - b) It doesn't waste electricity and is respectful of the environment.
 - c) For any therapist or non-hospitalized individuals, it's easy to apply.
 - d) In many diseases, it's much more affordable than current treatments, producing, among other effects, the balance of the bio magnetic pair.
 - e) It doesn't create dependency of any kind.
 - f) It lacks side effects in some forms of application and no risk in others by trained therapists or well-informed individuals
 - g) Its bacteriostatic effect can fight even the "super bacteria" that have been warned by scientists, with the anticipation of being the leading cause of death over any other. The pyramidal treatment destroys all these bacteria without the risk of selective strengthening or generation of new strains.

h) It's compatible with any other therapy and generally adjuvant to them.

USES AND PURPOSE OF THE CONSTRUCTION OF PYRAMIDS IN ANTIQUITY

(It will only be useful if you have a certain degree of heterodox scientific training and especially in physics).

The pyramid being the geometric, physical, mathematical and alchemical symbol of Creation, fulfills several functions such as a) Energy accumulator, b) Matter restructurer, c) Interplanetary landmark and Astronomical Observatory, d) Initiatic Temple, e) Geomantic regulator and f) Therapeutic instrument.

Let's see what interests us at this practical level:

ENERGY ACCUMULATOR

When the pyramid has the right conditions, works as a magnetic accumulator, because it's, as we said, an apparatus analogous to a gate in which part of the electronic flow of the telluric tatt was and does remains. The magnetic lines tattwas, exteriors, and interior nadis, which go inside the body - be it human or a planet

These electrons are trapped in the magnetic field of the pyramid until reaching a density inside, which by their arrangement forms a kind of "magnetic network," which capture neutrinos, due to the relative magnetic vacuum effect within the "Pyramid Egg," (internal vortex of the field) in relation to the rest of the magnetic field. These subatomic particles are fascinating travelers, as a neutrino could cross billions of kilometers of lead shielding or any matter. They pass through planets without the least resistance. But they can be trapped in the magnetic field, because they get involved in it, orbiting like one more electron.

The neutrino is known for the following particularities (among others):

→ is tiny, neutrinos weigh so little that no one has been able to measure its mass. Neutrinos are the most abundant particles that have mass in the universe.

1. There is no solid, liquid or gaseous matter capable of offer massive resistance to it. Still, its journey affects matter by ordering its molecular structures, especially in water, which is formed by five H_2O molecules forming a pyramid.
2. It travels slightly higher than the speed of light (300,000 km per second).
3. It's part as an element among others, of all atomic particles (electrons, neutrons and protons) but also as a stable element with differentiated characteristics in the chakras of the human vital body and animals. Possibly even in vegetables. Although its function in plants hasn't been studied, we deduce that if it doesn't do so in the vital field, it's evident that it does so in the chemical plane.
4. When the medium saturates with neutrinos, many genetic defects are corrected, ordering the atoms under a universal pattern of harmony. Although its mass is 13.7 to 14.7 million times less than an electron, its influence is surprisingly more significant in proportion.
5. In living cells, the electric current delays the ageing process (because it eliminates free radicals and rearranges damaged or distorted DNA chains), but it seems that neutrinos contribute to this phenomenon. In dead cells, the accelerated dehydration stops decomposition processes. Still, some phenomena can't only be due to dehydration, neutrinos retain and improve qualities, without the deterioration of other dehydration methods, both in plants as in meats.
6. There are several kinds of neutrinos. We could say that there are several kinds of subatomic particles with similar or equal characteristics, which enter into this denomination. They cover a broad sector of the highest part of the vibratory spectrum. Although they're found at rates close to the Human Auric Egg, they visible affect physical, mental, vital and astral bodies. Neutrinos - contrary to what was supposed until 1999 and in co-license with their discoverer - have a charge and mass, 13.7 million times smaller than an electron.

7. The vibrational rate of the magnetic field in which the neutrinos are involved, is increased by their own vibrational characteristics - much higher than that of the electrons and protons together - and the harmonic acceleration of the atomic cycles acts as an assistant in the intake of energies (matters) even more subtle, like "Prana" in all its modalities. Prana is simply all forms of supersubtle matter or energy that a living body takes advantage of for its functioning. Prana is food, water, air, but more specifically, it's "ether," as scientists call the "spirit" as a substance, whatever its manifestation. Remember that matter and energy are the two general modes of "spirit" as substance. Matter is energy in a state of relative rest and energy is matter in a state of relative motion.

Steps of development of the pyramidal field.

The pyramid, once correctly placed, begins to capture electrons that incorporate into its own field, which becomes increasingly powerful, forming inside, the "Pyramidal Egg," which is a kind of "relative magnetic vacuum," where electrons from the telluric magnetic field don't cross or do so very quickly, and barely manage to pass other particles from solar radiation, etc.. Consequently, neutrinos occupy that place by natural tendency. The accumulated "neutron energy" serves every major body or superior organism, as we said, under universal harmony patterns; therefore, organisms benefit thanks to "selective asepsis," in which bacteria, viruses and all microorganisms of a distortive or pathogenic nature die. Recall that these destructive microorganisms do not exist in the Universal Mind of the Absolute, existing in the Creation of the Logos only symbiotic bacteria (which interact beneficially) with higher organisms, or saprophytes (that undo organic waste). But the parasitic bacteria (which attacks and make a body sick to death) are not in the "Universal Plan," they appeared as a result of genetic manipulations at some point in the long history of the world. The benefits of the pyramids in a solidary civilization are many, but among them is to prolong cell life.

SOME PRECAUTIONS:

1. ANTIPIRAMID: One should not remain above or below a pyramid (except in its therapeutic application) but inside or outside, at the same level, above the base.

There is no risk in the case of pyramid beds in modern buildings because it's very easy to avoid the formation of antipyramid. Ideally, to treat water with pyramidal energy, it should be placed at a third of the height (if the pyramid is three meters high, the most appropriate point is one meter from the floor). In general, the most significant benefits are within the central dimensions of the structure.

The pyramid bed or pyramid house should be oriented to sleep with the head towards the north, to take full advantage of the effects of electric current. During the eight or nine hours of sleep, the body will continuously be "swept," eliminating free radicals. The activity of the total magnetic field produces a segregation of distortive atomic elements (heavy ions, free radicals of oxygen and every other gas, electronic excesses, etc.), and such segregation occurs in a 15% above and 85% beneath the pyramid, forming their respective "antipyramid," which aren't "virtual," but material, we can't see them, but magnetically they are very real and effective.

There are not neutrinos in the antipyramid; instead, all those particles that would produce the opposite effects of pyramids in a certain way. It's not that harmful stuff accumulates under or over the pyramid, because the same telluric magnetic field disperses them, but the amount of these at some point is enough to cause discomfort, depending on the characteristics of the pyramid.

Many therapists treat their patients under a small pyramid. Still, it's clear that these treatments with small pyramids are performed in short periods of time, achieving results similar to electromagnetism or the biomagnetic pair, but without risks when respecting its use "antipyramid." Currently, the combination of both applications has a remarkable success. But, it's not the same to remain under a very large pyramid. That's why our pyramid-houses may have a basement but with certain precautions in the construction and its use. If you are interested in building your own home, you can hire our advice.

2- CAMERAS AND GRILLS OF DISCHARGE:

The underground chambers (beneath a pyramid) serve to facilitate the distortion of magnetic flow, while maintaining certain functional levels, helping to avoid discomforts that, although benign, have some susceptible organisms. That's why the builders didn't worry about beautifying or revoking the walls of the underground chambers. In the pyramids, either due to its aluminum structure or the metal contained inside (structure, artifacts, etc.), the accumulation of static exceeds acceptable levels, so by installing static discharge grills and slowers of the heavy-ion flow, all magnetic excess is discharged there. To do this, keep in mind that the grill is not a very simple design.

In our pyramidal houses, because they are pyramids for residential use, the grills will provide three:

- a) Discharge of magnetic control.
- b) Lightning rod and metal structure, and
- c) discharge of the electrical installation. Never, for any reason, do these grills connect, having the land spears an adequate distance from each other.

INTERPLANETARY MILESTONE AND ASTRONOMIC OBSERVATORY:

The dimensions, characteristics and location of the pyramidal constructions were not out of random factors, but it was taken into account all the necessary knowledge for their multiple purposes. If interplanetary navigators arrive on Earth, they'll find in the pyramids a vast amount of geological data that the mass of this civilization does not know for many reasons. Lately, several teams of serious researchers have made important discoveries, resonating with Frank Love for the Truth. We have discovered among many other things that:

1. The size of the largest pyramid of each set is proportional to the land area of the continent or subcontinent in which they are (at the time they were built), in relation to other groups, being the case of Earth, Cheops, the largest and fundamental parameter, because 30,370 years ago Africa had a greater land area, now occupied by the Indian Ocean, and several parts of Asia were submerged. The meridian that crosses them divides exactly -as when they were built- the land surface in two, of the whole world, towards the East and the West, and with some difference (the smallest possible geographically and strategically) towards the North and the South. Possibly, at some time, it divided North and South exactly, if we take into account the difference mentioned above in Africa, plus the remaining islands of the sinking of Atlantis, about fourteen thousand years ago.

2. The exterior of the Egyptian pyramids was covered with large white limestone stones of various thicknesses, which made all faces perfectly flat. They were coated with hieroglyphics whose content we know very little today. More than the climatic factors, it was the destructive hands of several civilizations that made the entire cover disappear, recently finding some of the stones, being part of houses of ignorant people who used the pyramids as simple mines.

3. The faces of the mistakenly called "Cheops" aren't four, but eight, because they are "split" in the middle forming angles of just 27 minutes (the circle has 360 degrees and each degree divided into 60 minutes, and these in 60 seconds). Eight are the Metaphysical Principles. Eight are the Spheres of Consciousness. The Eight represents the infinite, and all the finite manifests itself in pairs of opposites (Principle of Polarity). In addition, this imperceptible division for the naked eye produces the "lightning effect" or Heliophany, seen in the spring and summer solstices, at 06:40, in which the shadow of the west edge of the South face, moves from left to right (from East to West) for about 20 seconds. Afterwards, the western part illuminates, and the eastern part is in darkness. This effect is also seen during the equinoxes, at approximately 5:20 p.m.

4. The accuracy of measures and techniques applied in the construction of the pyramids - especially those of Cheops, Kephren, Miserinos and the two pyramids of Snefru - are impossible to achieve even in the best times of the IV Dynasty. All the later ones were made with distant remnants of the knowledge used in the first ones.
5. The units of measurements used on the pyramids and the distances between them, the sarcophagi in the inner chambers, etc., are measures of both metaphysical and astronomical importance. They applied the "pyramid meter," equivalent to 1,047901 m, and its half called "Egyptian elbow," 0.5236 m, which corresponds almost exactly with the quadrant of the earth meridian. They also knew and applied wonderfully the universal mathematical coefficients PI and FI. PI is 3.141652 ..., and FI is 1.618 ..., whose inverse is 0.618 ... and its square is 2.618 ...

- ✓6. The pyramid is the most earthquake-resistant construction. Our Pyramids can resist winds of up to 250 km / h. The pyramidal complexes are arranged in such a way that allows many astronomical appreciations, so many to write an entire encyclopedia.

The therapeutic uses are widely indicated in the book "Revolución Terapéutica de las Pirámides" by Dr. Ulises Sosa Salinas and Gabriel Silva, and many more technical and archaeological data in "Tecnología Sagrada de las Pirámides."

Thank you,

Kaine.

SUMMARY OF RESEARCH

This research was carried out by the Russian National Academy of Sciences which includes: the Russian Academy of Medical Sciences, Institute of Theoretical and Experimental Biophysics, Graphite Scientific Research Institute, and the Institute of Physics in Ukraine.

RESEARCH RESULTS

- Immune system of organisms increased upon exposure in the pyramid (Leukocyte composition of the blood increased). Also increased regeneration of tissues)
- Agricultural seeds placed in the pyramid for 1-5 days showed a 30-100% increase in yield
- Russian Military radar (locator) spotted an energy column rising several miles high in the sky above the 22m Lake Seliger pyramid. Several months after this pyramid was built, the Ozone layer improved in the atmosphere in Russia.
- Areas near the pyramids seem to have diminished seismic activity. Instead of one large powerful earthquake occurring, there are hundreds of tiny ones. Also violent weather seems to decrease in the area of the pyramids.
- Pyramid complex was built in an oil field in Southern Russia (Bashkiria). The oil became lighter (less viscous) by 30% and the yield of the oil wells increased. These results were confirmed by (Gubkin) Moscow Academy of Oil and Gas.
- Newborns were given solutions that had been placed in the pyramid and their health indexes increased greatly.
- Experiments with about 5000 people in jails in Russia showed that in a few months most crimes almost

Pyramid

Hello

My name is Simon Connell and these are the Pyramids I make. In these pages you will find some information about what the Pyramid can do for you .This work by volume is modest but in potential profound.

This is a starting point, there is so much more to be learnt even after the tomes of books and information already produced, here another chapter begins. To you the reader, I hope you find it informative and helpful, what I have found is that there is always more,(in every sphere).So let us begin

What I have not made apparent is .that the practice of the cleansing the Auric bodies is also a way of helping with health problems since all health issues are contained within the Auric field and issue from there first. What is required is to determine in which body the disease is located, more often it is a combination of bodies responsible for the illness. Whilst the disease is embedded in the emotional body for example it will be necessary to relax other bodies in order to let go of the condition .For example why do we hold this this view may be held in the Mental body so to release work has to be done here to release the emotional body.

If there is anything in these pages that does not cover the questions that you have then please don't hesitate to contact me .

Thank you for your interest in Adytum Pyramids and I hope these pages are of use to you

I will endeavor to give you as much information as is practical here that you make up your mind.

Over the years I have come to realize that the depth of knowledge contained within these structures is truly mind boggling, and the purpose for them is equally impressive. Below I outline some of the uses I have discovered, although I realize that you probably already have a purpose in mind, these are some uses I feel are very well worth knowing about

These Pyramids are made from copper , 12mm copper tubing with a base of 2 meters square and standing 127 cms high

They are built in kit form so you can move them from place to place in their own carry bag if you want or just leave them in the one spot as a permanent fixture. Being weather coated, placing them outside is no problem at all

As for health problems the energy of the Pyramid is life force so it is perfect for vitalizing water and aiding in recovery and healing of health issues. This energy raises the vibration of every cell which means with regular use your whole vibration will raise casting off lower level energy like illness.

Leave water in the Pyramid overnight in preferably a glass container or anything that is not lead , plastic or aluminium. The vibratory rate of the water is elevated so that each cell that it enters receives the benefit of that higher vibration Three hours after drinking water it will have distributed throughout the body carrying with it the vitality of the pyramid energy causing toxins to be released from the body and raising the vibration of the cell

Picture from Masaru Emoto's work on the effect of vibration and Water. Water crystal after the words :THANK YOU “ had been written on the bottle

Creating and amplifying essences, place the essence (flower, crystal or such) in the pyramid leaving the lid on (if the lids are off the essences will blend which becomes a quick way of blending essences when you need to only that if it is a mother essences it will be tainted). Or place your prepared essence bottle in the Pyramid along with whatever symbol or written intent or purpose you wish and leave it there for 24 hours job's done .

There's cleansing of Water , removing the energetic imprint left behind by toxins , basically wiping the memory of the water giving it greater vitality

The construction of these Pyramids is based upon the ratio of the Golden Mean in Fibonacci numbers , it is 1.618. This ratio is found throughout nature and even at the genetic level for each full spiral of the double Helix of DNA it measures 34 angstroms long by also demonstrated 21 angstroms wide .these are Fibonacci numbers and allude to the potential to work as a DNA activator

Notice how the energy entering through the top of the Pyramid is like that of the double helix of DNA, which also emulates the passage of Kundalini up the Spine.

As we raise our vibratory rate we engage more of our natural potential, stored within our Genetic material, Physically we have evolved as far as we can now it is time for centers of the brain to awaken and express consciously. The energy of the Pyramid assists in this activation of Genetic Potential an act of Magic speeds up the process .

(Magic is the conscious attempt to expand ones awareness through the application of the will)

The 4 energies of Nature Fire, Water, Air, and Earth flow through the Pyramid, using the appropriate quadrant the corresponding Auric body (Astral, Mental, Emotional, Etheric/Physical) can be cleansed. Using the pyramid, which Houses the energy of nature,,,,,, you can also cleanse the subtle bodies the Etheric/Physical, Emotional Mental And Astral

Each of these relates to a direction and an element

Etheric/Physical	North	Energy of Earth	Archangel Uriel - Material, Abundance
Emotional	West	Energy of Water	Archangel Gabriel - Health + strength
Mental	East	Energy of Air	Archangel Michael - Love + Peace, Harmony
Astral	South	Energy of Fire	Archangel Raphael - protection, safety

Sitting in the pyramid facing the direction you wish to work with, and seated more into that quadrant, see your Auric field completely enclosed strong and vibrant. Invoke the energy of the direction you are facing. So if you are facing South you'll invoke the energy of FIRE using whatever symbols you have for that energy. If you have none then use the Aces of the Tarot for each of the Elements.

Book: Secrets from beyond the Pyramids
How to gain control of your Destiny
Geoff Gray-cobb

Having invoked the energy now see a stream of white light coming from directly above to enter down through your crown and into the body along the spine to the ground.

Once established feel the light now expand through you getting wider and wider pushing out any impurity as it moves . As soon as the expanding light and accompanying dross leave the body hear it burn imagine the flames to be consuming all impurity. expand this light to the extremity of your Auric Field. Now see the feather light ashes , the result of the burning dross float lightly to gather at your feet . Repeat this for 10 minutes , I expand the light 7 times , and at the end of that cycle feel yourself standing on the ashes gathered under foot , now absorb them into your body through your feet and raise them up to circulate throughout your body,,,,, YOU ARE COMPLETE .Now banish the energy, release it

What I've written here is what I see as the main focus of the Pyramids. That is to assist in the role of healing and at times to affect a healing

Water treatment can be used for the growing of plants , plants can be placed in the Pyramid itself. Food of greater vitality and energetic value is a must in our lives. Water can be imprinted with Healing vibes useful in the treatment of so many different maladies, which gives rise to the creation of our own personal essences and the amplification of existing ones

DNA activation as we approach 2012 the more of our being that we have initialized the better prepared we are for the sweeping changes coming into our world and the more of ourselves we become.

Overall here is an effective natural tool that teaches whilst it assists in the elevation of Mind, Body and Spirit

The cost of these Pyramids is $350 plus postage which of course varies depending on where you live.

Coming soon to the product line are 30 cm based stainless steel and Brass rod Pyramids,. The same sized fully enclosed Glass Pyramids , Glass Golden Rectangle planter boxes and a selection of Subliminal C.D.'s and Binaural Rhythms So far only general estimates of the costs have been made

If you would like to be kept informed of future products by all means contact me at simonconnellnow@yahoo.com.au

Or likewise you can reach me on 0412 278 615

Pyramid Workshops, Healing workshops,are available now and Spiritual Bush Odysseys' available soon

I thank you for your patience and understanding and if there is anything here that I have not addressed that I can help you with please do not hesitate to contact me

HANDY HINTS FOR PYRAMID USE

A pyramid is a most wondrous tool and can be used for many different purposes. We and many other people around the world believe they enhance life forces and the quality of life itself. Here is some further information for you on how to use and care for your WOODEN EARTH CREATIONS pyramid. There are different uses for the various sizes:

BENCH TOP PYRAMID - No. 520

Treatment Aim: detoxify - energize - enhance - preserve

Bench top pyramids can be conveniently left on a kitchen bench top or table for easy every day use. We recommend you treat your food in the pyramid to raise its energy and nutritional value - it feels and looks better, it tastes better and keeps for longer.

For example, eggs seem to keep for long periods under a pyramid, fruit and vegetables stay vibrant and firm for long periods, coffee loses its acidity etc. Sprouts and all plants just love it in there and grow vigorously. A bench top pyramid is a definite alternative to refrigeration.

Water tastes so much better when treated overnight (or kept) under the pyramid as the chemical additives (if on town supply) seem to be neutralised. It tastes very different - energized and full of vitality. As pyramids enhance the life force of all living foods, please remember that it speeds up processes within their cellular structures whether it be to preserve or accelerate decomposition, so we have included the following suggestions for various types of foods (of course, you can experiment with all kinds of foods to see what works best for your diet and lifestyle).

Short term treatment - several hours or overnight:

- ★ fresh, ripe fruits and veges e.g. tomatoes etc/meats/cheese (they last longer and taste better) - if too ripe the pyramid will accelerate their maturation if kept under for longer.

Longer treatment - one day or as required

- ★ sprouts/seeds/plants (accelerates growth & germination)
- ★ eggs/mushrooms/fruit to ripen (they definitely look and taste so much better)
- ★ coffee/tobacco (improves taste and lessens acidity)

Other uses for the home or clinic:

- ★ razors (keeps them sharp for weeks/months - can depend on moon cycle)
- ★ crystals (amplifies energies)
- ★ keeps natural remedies potent and full of life force to enhance healing

LARGER PYRAMIDS FOR SLEEPING, MEDITATION AND HEALING

- ★ pyramids work best if one side is aligned with True North. This is less than magnetic North on a compass - the energy amplified is non-magnetic and non-electrical but in line with the Earth's axis and rotation.
- ★ the greatest concentration of energy is one third up from the base King's chamber
- ★ experiment with crystals in each corner (clear quartz in the apex is recommended)
- ★ metal objects such as jewellery in the pyramid tend to absorb and hold energies
- ★ this is a sacred space that amplifies healing processes, thoughts and meditations
 - be clear about your intentions
 - remember that what is contemplated within the pyramid can manifest very quickly
- ★ long and short term sleeping inside pyramids is definitely recommended

Our larger pyramids are easily assembled and great for long or short term treatments for yourself or friends and family. Babies love to sleep under a pyramid, it seems to soothe and quieten them very quickly, pets love to snuggle down under them too and they are perfect for a quick 'pick me up' siesta during the day.

The larger pyramids can also be left open or covered in for shelter or as a greenhouse for vigorous healthy plant growth. We have different sizes & timbers available.

Please note:

All our pyramids have been oiled with our special WEC oil formulation for timber. Please give your pyramid an occasional oiling with a soft cloth and good quality wood or olive oil.

There is a lot of research available about pyramids. One book that we recommend is "The Complete Pyramid Sourcebook" by John DeSalvo (Publisher: 1stBooks, ISBN 1-4107-8042-2). An interesting website to browse is www.gizapyramid.com. WEC Ltd. also has published an informative and interesting article about pyramids in the August/September 2002 issue of the 'Rainbow News'.

We would like to hear of your experiences and welcome your comments about our pyramids.

Kind Regards

AWAKENING PYRAMID TECHNOLOGY

Why have our gifted ancient ancestors created these structures? What is there message? Re-discover this ancient wisdom and become the scientist of your own life! Combining ancient wisdom with modern technology, pyramids are a simple yet profound tool/antenna for channelling life force energy directly from the zero point field. Which is defined as the manifestation of energy passing orthogonally through a 3 dimensional space and 1 dimensional time/sound holographic framework of a higher dimension? In other words it's the fabric of the universe or the ground state if your into quantum mechanics. This 'energy' has only recently been accepted by the global science community. Directly channelled, this energy alters the molecule structure of matter into a higher order of existence. These effects are amplified by the precision of the angles, the materials used and how accurately the pyramid is aligned to the true cardinal points of north and south. It's very simple really. Many different schools of training such as Tai-chi, Reiki, and Yoga teach their students to harness this life force energy for achieving optimum health, a balanced state of mind and spiritual harmony.

To better understand the functions of the pyramid at work we have to think outside the current mechanistic paradigm and venture into the ancient art of sacred geometry. By better understanding its nature we can further improve its function. (give it more amps!)

Metaphysically speaking it opens up a porthole/rabbit hole between spirit and matter, facilitating lucid dreaming, awakening one to the spell of matter. The benefits remain largely undiscovered by modern society and are awaiting your discovery.

Known Benefits of Sleeping Under a Pyramid:

- Slows the ageing process
- Lowers blood pressure
- Improves your eyesight
- Intensifies your orgasms
- Help you Sleep
- Helps your teeth
- Inspires Creativity
- Positive Lucid Dreaming

Other Benefits:

- Plants grow faster and have more nutrients
- Sharpens knives and razor blades
- Purifies toxic water, energizes water
- Makes food last longer and gives it more nutrients
- What else do you think they could do?

- Sleep reducer: Sleeping under a pyramid improves quality of sleep (more alpha-theta brain waves). Also reduces illnesses and promotes healing.
 - Longer lasting milk: Milk cartons with pyramid shaped tops will increase the self life of milk, allowing it to stay fresh longer.
 - Razor Sharpener: Assuming 50% of Canada's population are razor users, and using the statistics stated in the Czech Patent, a annual saving of steel would be 421005 Kg, if everyone used pyramid razor sharpeners.
 - Natural Fertilizer: In areas that use irrigation, applying orgone energy to plants in a field would not be difficult. A large pyramid could be constructed over a reservoir tank to "charge" the water. Additionally orgone folds could be applied around the piping to increase the energy in the water. In areas that do not use irrigation, simply exposing the seeds to orgone energy prior to planting would increase the yield. A large pyramid over a grain bin would do this very nicely. Some extensive studies have been done, and show that pyramid energy can increase the yield of a crop up to 30%. Besides the initial cost of setting the system up, the increased yield is free. We need to find a way to feed the growing population without further destruction of the land. Chemical fertilizers are causing huge damage to the balance of nature [and the human population], and cannot keep up with the increasing demand for food.

Additionally, with increased understanding and ability to manipulate Aether, whole new possibilities open up;

- Gravity control (ie Anti-Gravity, Super-Gravity)
- Inertia control
- Free, clean energy, in huge amounts
- Overunity
- Faster than light travel
- Weather control
- Matter creation from Aether
- Transmuting elements (Fusion)
- Grand Unification Theory: Understanding how all forces are related, as they all are created from Aetheric energy.

Orgone energy is Wilhelm Reich's name for the substratum from which all nature is created. The best definition this author can provide for it is this: Orgone energy is the creative force in nature. This article will discuss briefly the history of the discovery of orgone energy by Reich and will describe its properties. It will then summarize the evidence for and against the concept and, finally, will undertake to explain why it is that the concept meets such great resistance.

Here is a really cool, very simple experiment everyone can try. I see it as proof that aether exists. The only explanation I can come up with to why this works is that aether flowing through mass can be distorted to form energy fields. Aligned dipoles of a magnet can distort the aether flow to generate a magnetic field. Aether flowing into the earth

The enhanced energy field created by pyramids has become a popular field of study in recent decades. Dr. Patrick Flanagan, an electronics genius with hundreds of patented inventions, published a book on pyramid power in 1973. He believes the five angles of the pyramid project a beam of radiation towards the centre - the "fire in the middle." Flanagan calls this amplified life-giving force "biocosmic energy," though science has not yet understood the specifics of this energy. Karel Drbal, a Czechoslovakian engineer and pyramidologist, described the pyramid as "a kind of cosmic antenna, tuning into sources of energy of vaster intensity and then focusing it into its centre."

With Kirlian photography Patrick Flanagan demonstrated that while most of the positive energy is focused within and beneath the pyramid, some is also diffused from the five points. Many who have stood on top of the Great Pyramid have described sensing a high energy field or electrical charge.

Since the 1970s engineer Joe Parr, a member of the Great Pyramid of Giza Research Association, has written about theoretical "mass particles" that the pyramid shape attracts and traps. He states that these particles produce an orb-like energy field or "containment bubble" around any true pyramid, which shields out other energies. Using his gamma ray transducer he was able to study this energy field, which emanates from the one-third height level of the pyramid, the geometric centre (which he pinpoints as the Queen's Chamber in the Great Pyramid). He claims this centre holds three mass particles captive as long as there is space for ions to flow. He found that sun spot activity and the phases of the moon had an effect upon the intensity of a pyramid's energy field, and that at certain times of the year the field would block all electromagnetic radiation and even the force of gravity.

In 1968 Dr. Luis Alvarez, a Nobel prize winner in physics, tried to ascertain whether there might be secret chambers or passages in Khufu's pyramid (the middle pyramid on the Giza plateau, only slightly smaller than the Great Pyramid), by measuring how cosmic rays passed through it. Normally the recording device would show a drop in energy if cosmic rays were passing through an empty space rather than through stone. In this case the recording tapes, when analyzed by computers, showed that the cosmic particles could not be measured - every time the tapes were run, the patterns were different. The cosmic particles rearranged themselves and some of the data disappeared altogether. "This is scientifically impossible," said one of the scientists, Dr. Amr Goned ... there is some force which defies the laws of science at work in the pyramid."

Modern pyramidology had its beginnings in the 1920s when Antoine Bovis, a Frenchman visiting the Great Pyramid, noticed that the bodies of small animals - bats, mice and cats - which had died in the King's Chamber were completely preserved by dehydration. Back home in Nice he built a scale model of the Great Pyramid, placed a dead cat about one-third up, and found that the body indeed did not decay but mummified.

His model, on display with preserved animals in his store window, was seen by a young man, Hubert Larcher, who later conducted his own investigations into pyramid power. He wrote to Karel Drbal, telling him of Bovis's discoveries and writings. Drbal performed his own experiments and discovered that if a dull razor blade was left at the one-third level of a model pyramid, it would regain its sharpness within a week and would remain sharp if kept inside the pyramid (which, as for all experiments, must be facing magnetic north, with the edge of the blade facing north also). His Gillette Blue Blade which normally gave five shaves could now be used for fifty shaves or more. Drbal theorized that the energy waves in the pyramid caused the metal molecules to return to their original form. He went on to create and patent a Cheops Pyramid Razor Blade Sharpener.

The razor-sharpening effect brought pyramid power into the public eye. Anyone can duplicate the experiment, using a pyramid model in the proportions of the Great Pyramid. Regular double-edged blades can be used but single-edged blades without a stainless steel or platinum coating are better. Use a dull blade or dull it with a toothbrush, and leave it in the pyramid for a week.

Sheila Ostrander and Lynn Schroeder's 1970 book Psychic Discoveries Behind the Iron Curtain verified the dehydration of organic matter and sharpening of blades by pyramid shapes. With the publication of Pat Flanagan's book and another by Max Toth and Greg Nielsen, "pyramid power" became popular and many people began their own experimentation.

Scientists and Interested amateurs have performed experiments with plants, seeds, metals, food and liquids inside pyramids. Bill Schul and Ed Pettit placed identical containers of milk inside and outside a pyramid. Within a week the milk outside grew mould, whereas the milk inside the pyramid formed curds, and six weeks later turned into a smooth creamy yogurt. An experimenter named James Raymond Wolfe put a pint of water within a pyramid for a week and a control pint outside the pyramid. His assistant filled numbered vials with the resulting water and Wolfe watered groups of sunflower seeds, not knowing which water was which. In every case the seeds watered with the pyramid-charged water grew faster. Patrick Flanagan also verified that seeds germinated more easily and plant growth was accelerated by pyramid power. Seeds kept beneath a pyramid will produce a richer yield, and pulses sprouted with pyramid power are richer in vitamins, minerals and enzymes. Not only do plants grow faster beneath pyramids but they remain free of pests.

Bill Schul and Ed Pettit noted significant difference in the growth rate of plants beneath pyramids and wondered if they would be able to capture it with time-lapse photography. What their photography showed was "plants gyrating in a symphonic dance as though orchestrated by an unseen conductor." Their first film showed a six-inch-tall sunflower placed in a glass pyramid at the one-third height level. "The plant followed an east-west cyclic movement. It bowed to the east nearly touching the base, swept a semicircle to the south and back to the west and finally straightened to the vertical before starting the dance once more. The movement was repeated every two hours" The authors observed this east-west movement for two years, then abruptly the plants started to move instead in a north-south arc, presumably due to some change in the environment or atmosphere.

An aluminum screen placed to the west of the plants would stop the plants' gyrations, since aluminum blocks a pyramid's energy field. Similarly, seeds placed on aluminum foil in a pyramid will sprout slowly - but aluminum's blocking effect is overcome if the foil is left in a pyramid for two weeks or more. Amazingly, the foil then carries its own pyramid energy and it will enhance seed growth and cook food faster.

Jules Green of the Psychical Research Society experimented with flowers. Taking four roses, he placed two under pyramids, one under a cube, and one in the open air. He did the same with four tulips. After a week, the flowers exposed to the air had withered, while the others were still fresh. The roses and tulips in the pyramids, however, had actually grown.

Patrick Flanagan investigated pyramid effects on plants, water, animals and people. He was particularly enthusiastic about the pyramid's ability to preserve food - foods and beverages stay fresh longer and acquire enhanced flavour. Fruit is preserved indefinitely by dehydration.

The Great Pyramid Company explains how pyramids inhibit natural decay: "Pyramids don't kill bacteria. However the bacteria feed by absorbing nutrients as entropy breaks the tissues down. In a pyramid there is so little entropy that the bacteria barely survive and don't multiply prolifically. Food therefore stays fresher longer and has a chance to dehydrate before it goes bad."

Medicines stay fresh beneath a pyramid for the same reason: destructive energies are deflected and positive energy is enhanced. Pyramid-charged water is energizing and aids digestion; it also helps wounds and skin conditions to heal faster. A small pyramid placed over a wound will likewise speed healing. Polluted water can be in several days beneath a pyramid.

Since a pyramid holds positive energy and deflects negative wavelengths, it will cleanse and empower crystals, and brighten tarnished jewellery. Tarnish can be removed quickly from gold and silver by pyramid-treated water.

Many people report feeling revitalized, with sense-perceptions sharpened, after spending time within a pyramid. As well, some experience an internal tingling, and sometimes a "distant ringing" sound, as the pyramid shape focuses and resonates beneficial sound vibrations.

In The Secret Power of Pyramids, Bill Schul and Ed Pettit report that people spending time sitting beneath pyramids have claimed relief from many ailments. In their chapter on "Healing Powers" they report that healing has occurred rapidly in cases of sprains, cuts, bruises, toothache, backache, strains, congestion, and infections. They mention that people sitting within pyramids sometimes report seeing a blue light, which research has shown to have cooling, healing properties. In Pyramid Power, Max Toth and Greg Nielsen state that people sitting or sleeping near even a model pyramid have reported the alleviation or disappearance of pain or symptoms of illness. Schul and Pettit postulate that the pyramid energy field tends to produce healthier functioning of cells, tissues, and organs. They point out that since the pyramid shape offers a heightened energy field, while a cube inhibits energy, it does not serve us to live in cube-shaped homes.

Not surprisingly, people experience enhanced effects when meditating beneath pyramids. Changes in the meditator's aura (electromagnetic field) have been noted with Kirlian photography - auras become brighter and larger. Meditators report deeper relaxation, an enhanced sense of well-being, and increased levels of awareness. The positive energy flow in the pyramid facilitates deeper focus.

Patrick Flanagan tested the brain waves of people as a pyramid was lowered over their heads. Their alpha waves became much stronger and meditation became deeper. As well, he found that he required less sleep and felt more rested when sleeping under a pyramid. The Great Pyramid Company, which sells pyramids for meditation and sleep, states that sleeping under, rather than inside, a pyramid is preferable, since "the energy is softer and quieter." Having a pyramid beneath one's bed can also have a calming effect.

A pyramid aids meditation because it focuses harmonious energy while deflecting distracting energies:

Distractions are unordered, disharmonic energy. [A] pyramid guards against external interference while helping you corral your own maverick thoughts. The pyramid focuses positive energy within you, which is precisely your goal. As you enter your reflective state the pyramid assists you at every step. Meditation is faster, deeper and more rewarding.

Bill Schul and Ed Pettit researched the effects of meditation inside a pyramid, by asking people to try it for the first time and describe their experiences. The common feelings were of calmness, peace, harmony and relaxation, as well as mild euphoria, feelings of being "charged" with renewed energy, and a sense of detachment from the physical world and everyday concerns. Some experimenters experienced a focus of energy on their heart. One reported: "The first impression was peaceful silence ... and I was very aware of my heart. There was a power of some kind going to the heart, or coming from the heart. The entire body seemed to take on a vibration - a tingle..."

People meditating in a pyramid regularly have received strong spiritual and psychic impressions, as well as enhanced dreams and visions, vivid visual imagery, and increased memory recall.

Some writers suggest placing wishes and prayers inside the pyramid to help focus one's energy on the issues, or facing in the four directions to enhance specific areas of life: For example, one can sit in the pyramid facing east to focus on love, harmony, and peace; west for health; north for material abundance, and south for protection and safety - the principle being that the pyramid energy will help to materialise these desires.

Experiments have shown copper to be the best metal for an open-frame meditation pyramid, due to its natural electronic and bio-enhancing properties, but pyramid structures of cardboard, wood or bamboo are effective too, if built to the same proportional dimensions as the Great Pyramid.

The Great Pyramid enshrined and preserved timeless knowledge which is still challenging us to unlock its secrets today. As well, Edgar Cayce and others have claimed that a Hall of Records lies buried beneath the Great Sphinx, containing records and artefacts from Atlantis and even more ancient civilizations. Suffice to say that there are mysteries still to be revealed on the Giza Plateau. In The Secret Power of Pyramids, Bill Schul and Ed Pettit described the Great Pyramid as "an instrument for human growth." As we delve into its history and learn more about the ancient wisdom it embodies, we learn more about human capacity and evolution. We are only beginning to understand the vast antiquity of the human race and the advanced scientific and metaphysical knowledge which ancient civilizations possessed, and which the Great Pyramid conveys to us across millennia.

Effects/Experiments With Pyramid/Orgone Energy

The following information is partly from my experiments, and what I have read from The Pyramid Energy Hand Book By Serge V. King, Ph.D, which is no longer in print. My personal experiments are documented else-where. This information should be correct, as the book was very good about keeping the facts straight. All of my experiments thus far remain consistent with the book's claims, so it should be safe to say the rest is correct.

First of all here are some of the things a pyramid is suppose to do:

- Sharpen razor blades
- Restore the lustre to tarnished jewellery and coins
- Purify water
- Mummify and dehydrate meat, eggs and other food stuffs
- Help keep milk fresh and prevent souring without refrigeration
- Dehydrate flowers without losing their form or colour
- Increase the growth rate of plants

Improves the taste of coffee, wine and certain fruit juices

Promotes healing of cuts, bruises and burns, as well as reduces pain from toothaches and headaches.

There are several important things to keep in mind when experimenting with Pyramids. First, the object you are treating should NOT exceed 5% of the pyramid's volume. Other-wise the energy is spread too thin, and not much happens. The exception is when sitting or sleeping under a pyramid. For this, a pyramid with a 6 ft base (or larger) works good.

Second, and this is really critical, the pyramid MUST be aligned to magnetic north to work! The energy is very weak when it is out of alignment, so you want to get it aligned as good as possible. It will still work if it is a little out.

Also if you are using it to boost your plant's growth you do need to be careful. Just as too much fertilizer is bad for plants, too much orgone is too. Some plants don't mind it, but others can't take a lot. If a plant is getting too much it will start to wilt. There are several ways to regulate the energy. The best way to prevent over-dose on plants is to treat water with Pyramids and water them with the pyramid water. You can't over dose them doing that. Humans can over-dose too. If you have been under a pyramid too long you can start to get a head-ache, if you still stay it becomes nausea and light headed. If you still refuse to leave, it will pass and one feels quite good. So there don't seem to be any damaging effects (your fingers don't shrivel up!), but I wouldn't recommend staying under too long if it causes discomfort.

Experiments with Pyramids

Water Alteration

Water is not "purified" under a pyramid, as the claims say, however it is chemically altered. Water is a polar molecule. The hydrogen bond is what allows this change to occur. The orgone energy produced by the pyramid polarizes, lines up, or somehow alters the hydrogen bond. This alters not only the taste of the water but some of its chemical properties as well. Water that is "charged" with pyramid/orgone energy can pass on the energy to other things. Watering plants with pyramid water will help them grow better. Some people drink pyramid water too. If you would like to make lots of pyramid water to drink, put a gallon or less of water under a large frame pyramid (6ft base) and leave it for a hour. Treating small amounts of water under a small or large pyramid, takes only 10 to 15 minutes.

Sharpen razor blades

This sounds really strange, but it's true. A dull razor blade is impregnated with water molecules. Now a pyramid creates a condition of microwave-dehydration (on non-living things), and removes the water from the steel. The moon cycles can affect results, as the moon cycles affect earth's magnetic field, and pyramid energy is related to magnetism (that's why you have to have the pyramid lined up to magnetic north. The blade sharpens best when it is lined up east-west, and the pyramid north-south. The razor is put under the pyramid after each use. A cheap razor that lasts 5 good shaves will last 50 or more. I have heard reports of as high as 250 as well. With the lunar cycles affecting the pyramid, sometimes one will get a poor shave one night. Don't end the experiment, it will pick up again the next day. Now this is not a totally alien process, it just speeds up natural ones. If you leave a razor for 2 months it will lose the water, and "sharpen" itself. The pyramid does this over night. Pyramids will keep the blade sharp, but I think it takes a long time to sharpen a dull one. Try 2 weeks and see if it helps. It's best to start with a fresh blade and maintain it. Using good quality razors and pyramids together can help a razor last for many, many uses.

Restore the lustre to tarnished jewellery and coins

Pyramid energy will loosen tarnish off coins and jewellery. Leave the object under the pyramid for several days first. Then the tarnish will rub off very easily. This is likely due to the microwave-dehydration breaking the tarnish's hold loose.

Mummify and dehydrate meat, eggs and other food stuffs

This is a most interesting effect of pyramid energy, and is due to the microwave dehydration. Meat, and other types of food will dry out quickly under a pyramid. For this type of experiment the samples should be sealed, unless using a frame pyramid. Other-wise the pyramid creating a closed space will affect results. The Egyptians had a very effective way of mummifying their dead, I believe this is how they did it.

Help keep milk fresh and prevent souring without refrigeration

Milk will stay fresh longer under a pyramid without refrigeration. This is because the micro-organisms that make the milk spoil cannot withstand the orgone energy, they don't like it.

Dehydrate flowers without losing their form or colour

The microwave-dehydration accelerates the drying process of the flowers faster than normal. I would recommend using a large frame pyramid for this, as the enclosure of a solid pyramid might counter act the effect. Also because of the 5% rule.

Increase the growth rate of plants

Orgone energy is good for plants, in moderation. Too much orgone can be harmful to some plants. Some can take more than others. The best way to prevent over-dose in plants is to water them with treated water. You can't over-dose hardly anything doing this. If a plant begins to wilt it has too much orgone, and needs to be given less.

Help attain increased relaxation

Pyramid energy puts the mind into a alpha-theta state which is one of relaxation. Animals quiet down under pyramids as well.

Improves the taste of coffee, wine and certain fruit juices

Pyramid energy alters the hydrogen bond in water. A general effect is a increase in the "smoothness" of a drink. It takes the sharp "edge" of drinks like coffee. Works well with wine too.

General healing

Promotes healing of cuts, bruises and burns, as well as reduces pain from toothaches and headaches

The title says it all. In general pyramid energy is good for multi-cellular organism. It is harmful to micro-organisms, which is good for killing infections and what not. I have also read that you don't get colds and the flu if sleeping under a pyramid.

Sleeping/Sitting Under a Pyramid

Sleeping under a small 8" base pyramid can have some small positive effects. Sleeping under a large pyramid (6ft) has several benefits. First less sleep is needed. Also you will have vivid lucid dreams. Because micro-organisms don't like orgone you should get sick less. Some people meditate under a pyramid. Pyramid energy puts your mind into a theta-alpha state. This also what causes the lucid dreams, and puts the mind in a creative mood when you are awake. I have heard that some people study under a pyramid for this reason.
